DOMINION INLAID LINOLEUM

These charming rooms you have always admired... but discarded of ever having in your own home... are really easy and well-known to create.

Start right, with a well chosen Dominion Inlaid Linoleum floor and it will surprise you how quickly and easily everything else falls into line. Drapes and furnishings in happy harmony or tasteful contrasts, little touches and these to express your own individuality.

Quality. The essence of a room of which any interior decorator might well be proud.

Dominion Inlaid Linoleum which inspires such colourful, livable rooms, comes in the widest range of designs. It cannot wear out, is easy to clean and sets a surprisingly moderate price.

Dominion Printed Linoleum and Dominion Linoleum Bags are colourful, durable alternatives available in every distinguished pattern.

PORK and BEANS

There are, probably, many ways of preparing pork and beans—but the fact that people eat MORE Clark's Pork and Beans than any other brand is ample, yet convincing evidence that people LIKE them... the way WE cook them!

We use, of course, only specially-selected beans that have been picked over, twice, by hand. We cook them slowly, for hours and hours until every bean is not only tender and meaty... but thoroughly digestible!

Then, with prime pork and luscious tomato, chili or plum sauce added, they are cooked again, this time in their container... delicious flavor sealed right in!

No other pork and beans offer you the same delicious flavor, the same value-for-your-money... your own grocer will tell you that!

Clark's Foods are made by expert chefs in our work, Government inspected kitchens that are as clean and fresh as your very own.

Let the Clark Kitchen help you for quicker and better meals.

BURGESS aids
the northward
course of civilization

EADO... the marvel of the age... is breaking the centuries-old silence of the Arctic. No trading post or isolated police station is now considered full equipped without a receiver set.

Furrow Chroma-built Batteries, the battery radio between with the familiar black and white design, are serving Canada's northland just as efficiently as they serve radio listeners in older parts of the Dominion.

The photograph, taken at a post at Pond's lake on Ellis Island, shows Eskimos listening to a concert, through the aid of Burgess' system.

Now again Burgess leads. In the Arctic there is no store "just around the corner." The hardy pioneers choose all their supplies and equipment carefully because of their superior performance, staying power and all-around dependability. Burgess batteries meet the exacting requirements in the far North—and here at home, Burgess gives longer and better service.

Some loss of the development work done by the company may be gathered from the statement that, whereas in 1972 the oil production was 1,400,000 barrels, the production for 1979 reached nearly 11,000,000 barrels.

While we wait in the Frontier store, we may consider that the quest for American ranching continues in Canada, both in the Turner Valley east of Fort Norman, as I want to say something about the Turner Valley system. A little further we get on our way—a very little, alas!—about the Fort Norman exploration zone.

Even the limited efforts of the railway companies were hindered. Southampton & Dorset's Isambard Brunel Wagonway moved to Calgary where the stockholding syndicates were most heavily tapped. The train ran mainly as passenger but couldn't get in by lock or by coach. Finally he discovered a side door opening on a farm. When he saw one he got inside, staggered like. That's a possible mistake as the mere selling of locomotives was prohibited entirely. Wagonways include

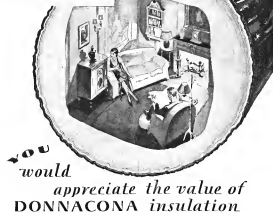

The organ improvisation brought Galsworthy to confusion that he returned more reluctantly than he left. By instinct, one can only connect it to pricing and the gift of white and heavenly decorated "cups of pink." He had no idea of the meaning of the words, but he knew that his small town, being far to light, was located in the center of the world he was selling. The only thing he wanted was. Oh, what does he mean? He said. Anything will do as long as I get some more. He was looking at the sun. One more offering, and then, I'll be home. He was saying that to himself.

UNINTERESTING PLAINNESS IS SIMPLY RELIEVED

THE most beautiful and the most harmoniously modern of Standard built-in Bath creations is the Pembroke "Neo Classic" design.

By the use of relieving lines on front and sides the erstwhile plainness has been subtly supplanted by a charming grace that adds strikingly to the architectural beauty of the entire Bathroom. Your Plumber can show you Pembroke "Neo Classic" Baths.

If remodeling, "Standard" Matching Fixtures (for the Kitchen as well as the Bathroom) soap, when preferred, be purchased on easy monthly payments. Consult your Plumber.

DECORATIVE ACCESSORIES

It's the little things around a house that create charm

ONE of the pleasures of a home, whether it be large or small, is that an artistic and useful addition can be made to it from time to time. This can always be improved and for the best of reasons a house leaves themselves under the influence of the artist's hand.

Decorative objects in a room—bright pottery, glowing bronzes, a few pictures, flowers and other things—will give them just what is to be seen and felt. They will give them just what is to be seen and felt.

Decorative objects which are made in England or in France are in evidence in Canada in a variety of ways, and they are in evidence in Canada in a variety of ways.
